

Why does everyone think Teenagers Are So irrisponcible? Some of us are but most Aint. I do not see the point in getting A Intermediate license. What's the point? It's not gonna take Away Anything from the driver. If the parents know That Their Child is with the person then it really Shouldnt matter. If you have a license And A CAR you Should be allowed to have As Many people the car can hold. I dont See the point of getting A Permite because if they know how to drive why Take A written test to prove A bunch of signs that you CAN read. So why dont you just let them drive you Around like the drivers test. And If they pass they Pass. You Shouldnt let anyone say that they Should have to get a permite just because they are 15. If you want to make it illegal to drive without A Intermediate licence ~~intermediate~~ Thats fine. Why would you make some one drive alone. What if your driving and someone hits you - then your SOL because you have nobody to call. What if your going to Wal-MART and you want your friend to go but she has someone else that has to go because shes staying with your friend. What would you do in that position? What does it matter if you have more than one person in your car? It really Shouldnt. Teenagers Are Rebels, And If you tell us not to do something Then

More than likely - Were going to do it Anyway.
I really think its pointless to just keep anyone from driving because I know people And people are going to do it anyway So I really think you Shouldn't make people have only one person in the car while driveing.
